The above firm hereby applies for membership in the Associated Builders and Contractors of Western Washington. We have indicated our membership category above and provided payment for the appropriate dues amount. "ABC dues are not deductible as a charitable contribution for Federal income tax purposes, but may be partially deductible as a business expense. ABC estimates that for 2015, 11.6% of your dues are not deductible because this portion of your dues is related to lobbying activities on behalf of members. Please consult your tax advisor for further information." We also understand that our membership renewal will be payable next January, with credit applied for any portion of next year's dues paid in this year.
